

Justice Education Coordinator

Position Description and Application

Purpose of the Position:

To assist the Director of Religious Education and Director of Religious Education Assistant in working with Fellowship Justice Committees to create meaningful educational experiences for RE students to compliment our monthly Justice Sundays.

Responsibilities:

- Work directly with Fellowship Justice Committees to help the DRE create meaningful educational experiences for monthly Saturday and Sunday education programs.
- Brainstorm and craft meaningful children and youth breakout activities for each monthly gathering.
- Act as an occasional liaison between justice groups and DRE.
- Participate in monthly Justice Sunday classes. (First weekend of each month, October- May)
- Continual informal and year end formal evaluation of the program in a way that includes feedback from participants and leaders.
- Attend Power of Spiritual Leadership training at the beginning of the program year (August/September) and associated classes and meet or communicate twice per month with the DRE to discuss lesson and activity plans for each month during the program year.

Qualifications:

- 1) A deep sense of love and respect for children and youth
- 2) Respect for and a basic understanding of the Unitarian Universalist Principles and introduce justice work experiences to Fellowship students.
- 3) Willingness to be "on the journey" together as you learn and grow with our young people -- to be adaptable to class needs
- 5) Ability to communicate your needs to the Justice groups DRE, and DREA
- 6) A basic understanding of child development
- 7) A sense of fun!

Amount of Time Required:

Approximately 8-10 (including three-four hours on Justice Sundays) hours per month in addition to training.

Length of Commitment:

One to two years, with the possibility of renewal, starting in the summer or fall 2018 (initial training TBD).

Training and Support Provided by:

Provided by the DRE and others including an orientation session at the start of the year, regular contact with the DRE, opportunities for workshops and training both in-house and denominationally and meetings as needed to address specific issues
